

Pure Dead Magic by Debi Gliori-Titus, Pandora and baby Damp live in a castle in Scotland with their parents and pets. Then, their father is kidnapped by the Italian mafia. So when Mom goes off to witchcraft college, Nanny Maclachlan is hired to take care of the kids... as well as the pet crocodile, dragon, yeti and gryphon. When Damp is accidentally shrunk and e-mailed on the Web, the fun really begins.....

Zorgamazoo by Robert Paul Weston– This book is an adventure of a little girl and a Zorgle, a two-horned, furry creature. It is told in poetry, and is like a cross between Dr. Seuss and Roahl Dahl. Katrina’s nanny wants to make Katrina be a sweet, quiet little girl, and hires a mean doctor to help. Meanwhile, all the Zorgles have gone missing... where are they? Morty and Katrina go looking!

Puddlejumpers by Mark Jean and Christopher C. Carlson– On a star-studded spring night, a baby is born. Looking through the windows are the Puddlejumpers, 11-inch tall creatures who live underground and who believe that this baby, Shawn Frazier, is their king. When he is 6 months old, they kidnap him to their kingdom. 13 years later, an orphan from Chicago tries to solve the mystery of the lost Quilt Baby.

The Magic Thief by Sarah Prineas-It all started when Conn stole the wizard Nevery’s locus magicalicus, a stone used to focus magic and work spells. He should have been dead, but he wasn’t So Nevery decides to take Conn as his apprentice, but Conn has to find his own locus stone within a month. But someone is stealing his city’s magic and time is running out....

Medusa Jones by Ross Collins– Meet Medusa Jones... she has snakes for hair. Her best friends are a minotaur (half bull and half man) and a centaur (half horse and half man) . Her dog has three heads, and she knows if she tries, she can look at somebody and turn them to stone... so why won’t her parents let her try? Greek Mythology for the young ones!
